Not illustrated. 1895 Excerpt: .his daughter gives some hints on what has been said to be a lost art ; indeed, I may say on two lost arts, for conversation as well as letter-writing can scarcely now be said to be cultivated as an art. Maj. Dulany to his Daughter. July 16th, 1807. My Darling Daughter: The pleasure which your letter of the 25th of May afforded me was great. I hope from it, that you will use the application needed to become an adept in so necessary an accomplished as the art of letter-writing. Inasmuch as you appear to have an idea of the end for which letters are written, namely, to supply the place of that conversation from which we are debarred by absence, from holding with each other. From want of due reflection on this, what absurdities do we see people led into when they sit down...
